

REWARD

$30,000.00

In the early morning hours of May 20th, 2007, 21 year-old Christopher Bartholomew, was with friends at 39th and Broadway in Kansas City. Chris was going to give friends a ride home.

At that same time an argument erupted nearby between two groups of men and shots were fired.

Christopher and his friends were not involved. Chris grabbed one of the people near him in an attempt to pull them to safety and was struck by a stray bullet.

He died from his injuries the next day.

A reward fund established by Chris' family and friends has boosted to total possible for information leading to an arrest up to $30,000.
